

THE CENTER FOR ARTS IN NATICK

Annual Report 2010

OUR MISSION

We believe the arts are essential to a complete human experience and to the creation of a vibrant, healthy community.

The Center for Arts in Natick serves the Metrowest region by increasing opportunities to experience, participate in, and learn about the arts. To this end, TCAN strives to present arts programs of the highest standard that are available to everyone.

TCAN dedicates its resources to providing community access to diverse arts programs, reducing barriers to attendance, and building appreciation through arts education.

ANNUAL REPORT 2010

The 13th season at The Center for Arts in Natick featured a wide range of programs that reflected a strong and growing enthusiasm for high quality performances, presented close to home. In just over a single decade, TCAN has established itself as a preeminent performing arts organization in the Northeast region and contributed to a vibrant emerging arts scene in Metrowest. And while the adverse effects of a dormant economy had an impact on donations overall, we were pleased to see event attendance and TCAN membership once again reach new high points for the sixth consecutive year.

Among 85 featured performances attended by over 14,000 patrons were highly anticipated jazz and blues concerts by Al DiMeola, James Cotton, Larry Carlton, and Jimmie Vaughan. TCAN maintained its commitment to arts participation and community programs by offering three well-received community theatre productions by the TCAN Players, including the award-winning play Doubt directed by Matt Cederholm.

To meet the need for affordable arts programming and education for children and young adults, TCAN offered over 175 classes, concerts and workshops with participation exceeding 5,000 young persons from Natick and surrounding communities. The award-winning Rock Off Main Street program entered its 10th year and again received sponsorship support from Berklee College of Music Summer Programs.

This is just a sampling of the extensive programming offered by TCAN in 2010, including classical music, dance education, folk music and appearances by many of America's top singer-songwriters.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

JAKE'S WOMEN

March 5-14, 2010

Jake is a novelist who faces his marital crisis by daydreaming about the women in his life: a revered first wife who was killed in an accident, his daughter as a child and a young woman, his current wife, and a prospective third wife.

TWENTIETH CENTURY

June 4-13, 2010

Bankrupt, with a career on a downslide, egomaniacal Broadway director Oscar Jaffe boards the Twentieth Century Limited train and encounters his former discovery and ex-chorus girl Lily Garland, now a temperamental Hollywood star. He pulls out all the stops in persuading her to return to Broadway for his upcoming show.

DOUBT

November 5-14, 2010

In this brilliant Pulitzer Prize winning drama, Sister Aloysius takes matters into her own hands when she suspects young Father Flynn of improper relations with a male student.

TCAN's resident theatre company, the TCAN Players, presented three productions in 2010. With classic comedies and contemporary dramas, the troupe attracted talented actors, crew, producers, and directors from throughout Metrowest, giving the community an opportunity to both be a part of a production and to enjoy well-produced theater close to home. TCAN Players also launched a new website in 2010 – www.tcanplayers.org – improving its ability to communicate directly with their audience and volunteers.

JAZZ AND CLASSICAL MUSIC

TCAN featured a variety of jazz and classical music performers in 2010, including the acclaimed classical cellist Matt Haimovitz, jazz guitarist Al DiMeola, Boston Music Award winner Grace Kelly, and jazz pianist Fred Moyer. In addition, TCAN served as a venue for Opera del West, Metrowest’s resident opera company. These elegant and affordable performances illustrated TCAN’s dedication to making the arts available to everyone. Offering a quality of performance and a dedication to sound rarely found in such an intimate setting, TCAN successfully brought rich, accessible classical and jazz acts directly to the community.

“I’m sure [Matt Haimovitz] felt right at home in the converted brick firehouse at the Center for Arts in Natick, with its intimate jazz club feel.”

– Boston Globe review of Matt Haimovitz’s performance at TCAN

CLASSICAL

TCAN brought many rising stars in classical music, as well as nationally recognized ensembles, to Metrowest in 2010.

Ariel Quintet
 Lydian String Quartet
 Matt Haimovitz Trio
 Musicians from Mistral
 New England Conservatory
 Oni Buchanan
 Thomas Pandolfi

JAZZ

TCAN made jazz music accessible to everyone by attracting award-winning jazz performers to the TCAN stage.

Adrian Legg
 Al Di Meola
 Deborah Henson-Conant
 Frederick Moyer
 Grace Kelly
 International Guitar Night
 Montana Skies
 Tom Natile Big Band

OPERA DEL WEST

By working together with Opera del West, TCAN was able to help give opera a local voice. 2010 productions include:

Stories of Love
February 14, 2010

Two comic one-act operas about finding love in all the wrong places. Pergolesi’s La Serva Padrona is about a maid who tricks her master into loving her, while Menotti’s The Telephone finds a man unable to propose to his girlfriend.

Donizetti’s Elixir of Love
July 30 and August 1, 2010

Gaetano Donizetti’s joyous masterpiece about a magic love potion and the destiny of a love triangle involving a lovable bumpkin, a dashing sergeant, and the bewitching town flirt. Featuring effervescent Italian melodies and plenty of bel canto vocal fireworks, Nemorino tries almost anything to create his happy ending with Adina.

POCKET FULL OF TALES

This year, TCAN celebrated its 10th anniversary with Pocket Full of Tales Theatre Company. This joint-venture brings children ages 4-12 through a journey of imagination of acting, script-writing, improvisation, and singing.

CHILDREN'S DANCE THEATER

Natick-based Children's Dance Theater continued its partnership with TCAN to bring dance classes to kids of all ages. Children learned about self-esteem through technique and creative expression.

WALNUT HILL SCHOOL

TCAN and Walnut Hill School's faculty came together to create "Acting the Song," a process-based workshop for exceptional students 13-17 focusing on musical theater.

NATICK HIGH SCHOOL

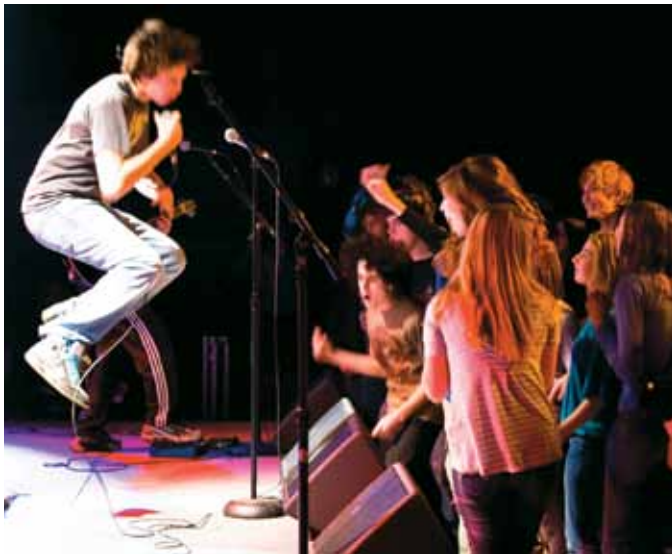

TCAN supported Natick High School arts programs by hosting fundraisers and performances from the NHS Jazz Ensemble, for Honors music students who presented recitals required for academic credits.

ARTS EDUCATION

TCAN's arts education programs are designed to help children discover themselves through the visual and performing arts. Theater, music, dance, and painting are all integral to the creativity and development of children. TCAN worked closely with local schools, teachers, and arts organizations to offer affordable programs to families, allowing children to explore the world and themselves through the arts. TCAN also featured 12 family events, including productions from Tanglewood Marionettes, musical group Trout Fishing in America, and Walnut Hill School. These productions introduced the arts to children with professional, family friendly arts events.

"My daughter benefited greatly from [this] workshop. It gave her the confidence and skills to successfully get through her first professional audition."

– Mary from Hopkinton

ARTS FOR EVERYONE

TCAN dedicates itself to more than just bringing the arts to the community – it’s a preferred venue for regional arts organizations, schools, and youth programs. TCAN’s historic Firehouse supports local artists, young musicians, and school programs by providing an ideal setting for them to showcase their talent. The successful Rock Off Main Street program brought high school garage bands to a real stage. We exhibited regional artists through the year. The Firehouse served as more than just a venue – it was a community showcase for the arts.

“I just wanted to say thanks for including us in what we all agree was the best event we’ve ever been a part of...”

– The Cranks, Rock Off Main Street participant

OPEN MIC

TCAN’s volunteer-hosted open mic nights presented an opportunity for anyone with the desire to play in a warm and inviting atmosphere and included one featured performer at each event.

ROCK OFF MAIN STREET

Sponsored by Berklee College of Music, TCAN’s Rock Off Main Street (ROM) provided a venue for high school musicians. Additionally, ROM’s Rock Showdown gave four individuals a chance to win a scholarship to Berklee’s five-week Summer Program.

VISUAL ARTS

Regional artists from all over New England exhibited on the walls of the TCAN Firehouse in 2010. Not only did this give local artists a showcase, it introduced TCAN patrons to artists working in their own backyard. TCAN also exhibits local work for Natick Open Studios.

FAMILY PROGRAMS

TCAN presented a series of family-oriented, professional, and affordable shows in 2010. Acts ranged from theater productions to puppetry to musical acts. These affordable performances enlightened and delighted children and families throughout Metrowest.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

By partnering with local organizations, TCAN was able to expand the reach of various community-enhancing services and events.

- Allegro Music School
- Golden Tones
- Kids Connect
- Natick Drama Workshop
- Natick Public Schools
- Natick Service Council
- Walnut Hill School
- Wellesley High School

1875 FIREHOUSE FACILITY

Natick's historic Central Fire Station, now the home of The Center for Arts in Natick, was originally constructed in 1875 and served as an operating fire station for 123 years. Following the sale of the building to TCAN by the Town of Natick, Phase I of the building's restoration was completed in 2003 creating a 290-seat performance space on the first floor with basement offices for staff. Reconstruction of the load-bearing walls, installation of an elevator, removal of hazardous materials, and total replacement of all electrical wiring, heating, and cooling systems consumed much of the original capital reserve fund, requiring a capital loan of $750,000 to complete construction and allow occupancy.

DEBT REDUCTION

With fiscal discipline and support from a community of dedicated supporters, the capital debt has now been reduced over 40% since 2003, to $433,000 in 2010.

TCAN continues to make reduction of the Phase I construction debt a priority with the understanding that, as a historic but aging building, the need for repairs and capital improvements is also ongoing. While we make progress in these areas, we work to insure that most of our resources are not diverted from our primary mission of presenting high quality arts programs that contribute to the vibrancy of our community.

EXPANSION PLANS

The planned Phase II project to renovate the building's second floor remains a strategic goal. As an intimate 150-seat concert space and function room, the renovated second floor space will allow TCAN to expand children's programs and provide a flattering environment for all forms of acoustic music including classical and jazz. The attractive brickwork and large wooden beams will also provide a comfortable setting for pre- and post-concert receptions, visual art exhibits, and community events.

FUNDRAISING

Individuals, local businesses and foundations fund TCAN's artistic and outreach programs without support from local and state government agencies. In 2010, over 26% of TCAN's total revenue was generated by industrious fundraising campaigns and the unwavering support of loyal patrons, members, corporate sponsors, and devoted foundations.

MEMBERSHIP

As TCAN's membership approaches 1,500, membership support remains the engine that keeps TCAN's doors open to anyone who wishes to enjoy the arts. With 64% of our members residing outside Natick, including 28% from outside Metrowest, TCAN has grown to become a major presence in the regional arts community.

MAJOR GIFTS

In 2010, TCAN took steps to strengthen our major gift campaign with the addition of a Development Manager, installation of new software tools, and expansion of the Board's Development Committee. TCAN also invested resources in prospect research and worked to expand relationships with frequent patrons.

CORPORATE SUPPORT

Middlesex Savings Bank, Fair and Yeager Insurance Co, Inc. and Framingham Cooperative Bank played a leadership role by continuing their legacy of support for TCAN's mission. Berklee College of Music Summer Programs helped raise the profile of the Rock Off Main Street program through their generous sponsorship.

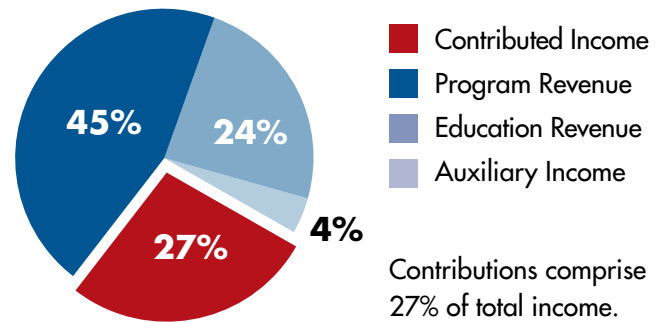

FOUNDATION SUPPORT

In 2010 TCAN received generous support from Nellie Mae Foundation, who made it possible to present affordable children's education programs for families of Metrowest. In addition, The Foundation for Metrowest provided a grant to launch a film series at TCAN, including classics, family films, documentaries, and concert films.

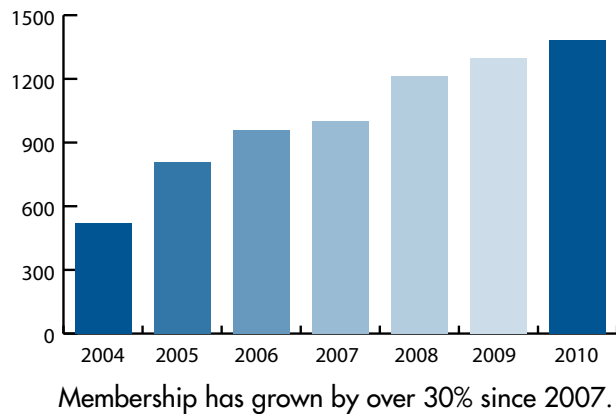

ANNUAL BENEFIT

The TCAN Benefit featured a double bill of outstanding songwriters, Jimmy Webb and Karla Bonoff. More than three dozen individuals and businesses sponsored the event with 205 patrons attending the performance and after-party.
